Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Jack Haines, operator of the store, said the only damage she knew of was to the motor and a general "smoking up" of the building.

coming the greatest distance.

Attendance at the Sunday art exhibit at Panhandle-Plains Museum totaled approximately 1,200, according to C. Boone McClure, museum director.

The exhibit was provided by Coppini Fine Arts Academy of San Antonio.

'Howdy Stranger' to Open At BIT Thursday at 8:15

A musical comedy spoofing Western cowboy singers, called "Howdy, Stranger," will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College.

Directed by William A. Moore, with cooperation from the music and art departments at WT, "Howdy, Stranger" is a happy take off on a Western television idol and his struggle to keep secret his fear of animals of all kinds and the fact that he did not grow up "in the wide open spaces."

The production, featuring dances directed by Elaine Paul, will be staged each night at 8:15 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults, 75 cents for junior and senior high school students, and 50 cents for children. WT students with activity tickets will be charged 50 cents.

Bob Finnicum of Erie, Illinois, who held a lead role in WT's spring musical, "Guys and Dolls," and who has had good parts in earlier summer productions, will play the part of Elly Jordan, the cowboy-singer who hates horses.

Majority of the scenes will be at a dude ranch in Wyoming, where situations lend themselves well to comedy. Climaxing the plot is the hiring of a psychology professor to hypnotize the singer into winning a bull-dogging contest at a rodeo.

In the cast are Reggie Reeves of Canyon as a dude visitor; Ruth Baker of Perryton as Ma Hardy; Leon Stephens of Dumas as Pa Hardy; Chris McFarlin of Dumas as Jane Hardy; Dwayne Smith of Pampa as Jeff Hardy; Jeanine Griggs of Plainview as Panthea.

Others are Gary Wert-emberger of Hereford as Professor Landis; Fred Neslage of Pampa as Sam Thorne; Joe Tunnell of Midland as Roy Chadwick; Ann Watson of Panhandle as Miss Semple; Russell Brummett of Borger as Pat Dunn; Penny Cox of Amarillo as Mrs. Jordan; Truman Dunahoo of Lubbock as Mr. Jordan.

Appearing as bellhops are Russell Farr and Bob Haggard of Canyon, and as newsmen, Reeves, Haggard, WAM Moore of Canyon, and Nick Veloz of Stinnett. Acameraman Larry Baker of Amarillo.

Gibson Girls will be several members of a high school speech workshop, which opens Monday at WT.

BARN, belonging to John Cook, who lived about seven miles north of town on the VFW road, went up in flames Saturday afternoon. Canyon volunteers rushed to the scene but were too late to save the building. Cook said the building seemed to burn in seconds. Oats were stored in the barn and about two truck loads were saved. Mr. Camp was born in Arkansas, July 29, 1885.

Survivors include two sons, W.W. Camp of Canyon, and M.T. Camp, now of Friona, and a former resident of this city.

25-50 Bushel Average Noted

Wheat harvest for Randall County had come to an end and elevators throughout the area report bumper yields.

Though green bugs and a dry growing season plagued wheat farmers yields went as high as 25-30 bushels on dry land and up to 50 bushels on irrigated land.

The bulk of the grain was harvested by the weekend and only a few loads have come in since that time. Arnold Prichard, manager of the coop elevators said they ended their season Saturday night. Stan Elliot at Farmers' said the middle of last week was their last big day.

Consumers' reported an estimated total of 460,000 bushels and Farmers' received about 160,000 bushels. Then some of the grain went into storage bins on the farms.

Although wheat made up the majority of the grain crops, some barley and a few fields of oats were harvested.

The harvest was drawn out over a month's period due to different ripening times for dry land and irrigated crops and also due to scattered rain storms.

Doyle Thomas, ASC office manager, said there were approximately 90,000 acres of dry land wheat and 20,000 acres irrigated.

Randall wheat beat the 60-pounds-per-bushel average by a pound, indicating an excellent quality.

Though there was some hail damage to the grain crops, John Brazzil, county agent said it had little effect on the county yield.

There's been a lot of commotion over the state about the firing of Representative Ted Springer from The Globe-News.

We've been asked what we think about it. We think that as long as the management of The Globe-News is paying the bills, then it should hire and fire whom it pleases at any time for any reason.

Here, briefly is the background as reported by some of the state's newspapers. Publisher S.B. Whittenburg called Springer in and handed him his walking papers a short time back. Springer had been employed in The Globe-News mechanical department since 1945.

Springer is quoted as saying he was given a chance to resign his post in the state legislature or lose his job. He said he assumed he was being "intimidated" by the Amarillo publisher because he voted against a sales tax.

Not so, Whittenburg is reported to have said. He said a policy was formulated by his firm last March forbidding its news media employees to seek elective office. Springer already was a member of the state legislature and is now serving his third term.

Springer said he refused to resign his legislative post.

We do not admire Mr. Springer's politics. We think a sales tax may be the only fair solution to the state's revenue problem.

We do admire a legislator's willingness to make economic sacrifice to preserve his integrity. If Mr. Springer was fired to carry out a bonafide policy of The Globe-News, that is one thing. If there is the slightest reason to suspect that ANY effort was made to influence a legislator in his duty to the people who elected him then it's time for a state investigating committee to head for Amarillo again.

In every town we've ever lived in there's always been a complaint that a "handful" of men run the town. There usually are about five to ten men who are out to front on almost everything that comes up.

The reason for this is that they usually are the only ones in the town who'll do anything. Most of that "handful" would be glad to relinquish a little of their local fame for a little help on some of the projects upon which they work for their community.

Normally the complainers are folks who do not attend public meetings, have never served on a board of equalization, city council or the school board. Normally they do not even pay their poll tax. Actually they have no complaint coming.

Riley Troth says he has heard that the state has plenty of money in various designated funds which may be spent only for specified items. He says the state needs legislation to put this money into the general fund so it may be spent for anything the state needs.

We're making inquiries.

Father of Local Man Interred At Wellington

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in Wellington for Eugene McBride, father of Travis McBride, 407

McBride would have been 76 years of age July 31, and was still actively engaged in farming at Wellington, until he became ill about two months ago. He died Monday morning in Amarillo, where he had been a patient at Northwest Texas Hospital.

McBride was born near Savannah, Georgia, in 1885. He came to Texas with his family in 1892, and resided in the Weatherford vicinity until 1920. He was married to Jennie Viola Holland in 1908. To this union were born five daughters and three sons. One son and one daughter preceded the father in death.

After living in Donley County about 17 years, the McBride family moved to Collingsworth County in 1937. McBride was a member of the First Baptist Church of Wellington, where funeral services were conducted. Burial was in the Wellington Cemetery.

Surviving are the wife, four daughters, two sons, eleven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Clee Pond and sons, Pat and Ivan, and Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Bonds will leave today for a vacation trip which will include Elk City, Oklahoma City, and Tulsa, Oklahoma. At Tulsa, they will be joined by Lt. C.G. Pond, Jr., who will accompany them to Siloam Springs, Arkansas, and to St. Louis, Missouri, where they will visit with relatives. Lieutenant Pond, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Pond, is stationed at Fort Sill Army Base, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Hilltop Views

BY DR. J. A. HILL

The picture may change before this article is in circulation, but as it is being written there is a fair chance that the Federal Aid to Education bill now pending in Congress may be defeated. However, with the support of the administration, the National Education Association and the Catholic Church its defeat would be an achievement of the first order.

I claim to be a Democrat and I have not often disagreed with the N.E.A., of which I have long been a life member, but I shall rejoice if this bill fails passage.

I am not unmindful of the need for better financial support of public education; nor do I deny that the whole nation is concerned with the diffusion of knowledge among all the people, for a free government depends for its safety upon enlightenment and virtue.

But experience teaches me that these two essential qualities are best developed at the local level. When government becomes big and powerful it soon becomes arbitrary, if not despotic. It doesn't require a microscope to discover that trend in Washington right now; and the pages of history are written in the blood of despots.

In the early history of West Texas State I had an experience with federally-controlled vocational education that left a bad taste in my mouth for the rest of my days. I was seeking to get the State Department of Education to recognize our work in Home Economics, Manual Arts, and Agriculture so that our graduates in these subjects could teach in state-approved high schools of the first class.

Every time we took the matter up with the Austin office we were told that the standards were set up in Washington, that West Texas State didn't meet them and they (Austin) could do nothing about it. Though from year to year we met federal standards one after another our graduates in these subjects and the departments themselves were penalized in competition with college that were not created for the education of teachers of any kind.

During Depression years West Texas State applied to the PWA for a loan and grant with which to erect a library building. The application was approved in the federal office in Fort Worth and forwarded to Washington. After being observed and approved by two or three offices in Washington it was turned down by some minor official on the ground that the Texas legislature might someday decline to support a library at Canyon. That ended it. We could never get Washington's ear after that.

These and other experiences convinced me that the folks in the U.S. Office of Education thought they knew more about the needs and quality of education in the Texas Panhandle than did we who were here on the job.

Those who promote the pending bill tell us that the only alternative to poor schools is federal aid—that some of the states are not able to support good schools. That was true for fifty or more years following the Civil War, but, in my opinion, it is not true now. The people in any state can have whatever they want to have. It is only a matter of willingness to sacrifice personal appetites and bad habits for that which makes for intelligence and culture.

Just last week the vice-president of one of the nation's largest manufacturers of alcoholic beverages was quoted in The Dallas News as saying that Texas spent about $275,000,000 last year for strong drink and is the industry's best customer in the Southwest. Yet, the legislature and Governor are right now in a terrific hassle over raising a smaller amount for two years to support public education, eleemosynary institutions, and all other agencies of state government. To say that Texas is unable to support an adequate school system is to portray crass ignorance or a gross indifference to sound citizenship in a free society.

Granted there are other states not as able as Texas, but I dare say that an intelligent and honest study and analysis of the poorest state in the union would reveal ample ability to care for its own. We often hear much about state's rights, but precious little about state's duties. If we really love our country and the things that have made it great let us show it by a willingness to make such sacrifices as are necessary to preserve them.

Federal aid to education will not get the job done, but will cost us a precious bit of our liberties.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL OUR STRENGTH

"Smoke costs farmers money," warns the board of supervisors for the Potter-Randall Soil Conservation District.

Farmers who burn wheat residues have failed to realize the benefits of these residues. Dollars as well as long time soil improvement both go up in smoke when residues are burned.

Wheat stubble that is returned to the soil will give such important long time benefits as increased moisture holding capacity, more organic material, more fertility-holding capacity and better soil tilth, according to the SCD supervisors.

Surface crusting is one of the main problems of burning residues. When all the organic materials are removed, the soil tends to bake or crust. This causes the soil to seal off and slow the water intake rate.

Many advancements in farm equipment have been made which handle large amounts of residues. Shredding or disking will chop the straw. This still provides cover and will keep the residue for growth of the following crop.

The exact value of wheat stubble in dollars is hard to determine but top production can be obtained only on fertile soil and natural fertility can be maintained only through efficient use of crop residues.

It is just plain common sense that we cannot expect to keep taking from the soil and never return anything to it.

Presbyterian Minister, Family Move Here from Colorado

The Rev. John Lars Hamerson and Mrs. Hamerson, and daughters Ann and Nia, have arrived in Canyon to make their home in the manse of the First Presbyterian Church at 1010 5th Avenue. The Hamersons come to Canyon from Colorado Springs, Colorado, where he was minister of the Faith United Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Hamerson attended Blackburn College in Carlinville, Ill., and McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill. and received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree at Louisville Seminary

ology Degree and lacks completion of his dissertation for the conferring of the degree. Mrs. Hamerson is no stranger to this part of the United States, for although she grew up in Illinois, she graduated from North Texas State College at Denton, and taught at Bryson for a number of years. Having only arrived this past week, the Hamersons are busily trying to get settled, so they can begin to enjoy their duties as well as their hobbies. Mr. Hamerson says that of all diversions he would have to admit that his choice of hobbies would be music and reading. Mrs. Hamerson allows that painting holds her interest, but says that she seeks a middle ground between the pictorial and abstract as her choice of style. Daughter Ann is 11 and will enter the 7th grade this fall and Nia, 7, will be in the 2nd grade. Both Hamersons say that this, their seventh move in 21 years of marriage, offers a new and challenging experience and one to which all members of the family are looking forward.

If you missed the opening of the Coppini exhibition at Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, you will still have an opportunity to see the paintings. The show will be hung until August 31. It is an impressive collection of work.

Many interested people from Amarillo came down for the special opening and reception for the visiting artists. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carlander, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sadler, and Mrs. G.D. Bowie were a few of those arriving early. Harold Bugbee from Clarendon was enjoying the art work.

Mrs. Waldine Tauch, sponsor of the Coppini Academy of Fine Arts of San Antonio was visiting with the many viewers and several of the exhibiting artists had travelled from their homes to attend the reception in their honor.

In the past few years, Neiman-Marcus Company has presented a special event called Fortnight each year during Texas State Fair time.

Neiman-Marcus presented its first Fortnight, a "Quinzaine Francaise," in the Fall of 1957. In 1958, it held a "British Fortnight," and 1959, a "South American Fortnight." Last year, "The Italian Fortnights" was presented. The event lasted a month.

This year announcement has been made for plans for as "American Landmarks Fortnight." It will be held from October 16 through 28. The subject matter concerns our own industry and culture.

The event will not be confined to Neiman-Marcus, but will encompass the entire city of Dallas. Plans are underway for a major lecture to be given by one of America's most famous poets. Concert events are being arranged. Art exhibitions are being planned.

One of America's leading artists, Tony Duquette of California will design the exterior and interior decor of Neiman-Marcus for the Fortnight. Marcus says, "We feel this will be one of the most exciting and educational events in the history of Neiman-Marcus Company."

Duquette designed the sets for "Can-Can," the costumes for "Kismet," "Lovely To Look At" and "Camelot." He was responsible for the sets and costuming for the San Francisco Opera production of "Der Rosenkavalier" and for the San Francisco Ballet "Beauty and the Beast," "Lady of Shalott" and "Caprice." He has designed from many other productions.

He has had one-man shows of his paintings at the Pavillon de Marsan at the Louvre, Los Angeles County Museum, San Francisco's de Young Museum, Palace of the Legion of Honor, Santa Barbara Museum and the Museum of Art in Phoenix.

Try to go to Dallas during these very special days in October. We have so many very exciting things to see just a day's drive away from our own doorstep.

Refuge Plots Provide Panhandle Game Cover

IN ADDITION to a cover growth for wildlife on the C.V. Conatser farm, a feeder and water tank are provided. Conatser planted the cover about four years ago. Shown in the photo is Stanley McDonough, game warden.

With a little work and luck Panhandle wildlife can enjoy small game refuges such as the one found on the C.V. Conatser farm southeast of Canyon. The refuge covers less than an acre and furnishes cover mainly for quail.

Conatser said he planted the cover which consists of cherry trees, wild plum and blackberry bushes four years ago.

"I worked through the Soil Conservation office to do it," he said.

"At that time Woody Pond

Mr. and Mrs. J. Keith Jones and daughter Melody, spent the weekend of the 4th of July in Oklahoma City, where they attended a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Jones. There were over forty members of the immediate family present.

Dr. and Mrs. Tom MacOwan have left for Pomona, California where Dr. MacOwan will be on two week's active duty with the Navy.

Conatser has raised some of his own quail and has obtained some through the state fish and wildlife department.

Stanley McDonough, district game warden, said the Conatser farm is not the only refuge in the county.

"We have several farmers who have grown similar plots," he pointed out. "It is a great aid to wildlife and promotes natural growth of wildlife population."

McDonough said that Bob White quail are available to anyone who can provide a suitable place for them.

An application must first be sent to Austin, the game warden checks to see if the location is suitable and if there is a need for quail and then the birds are sent.

McDonough said there is a 50-cent charge for each bird.

With one of our finer Wheat Harvests coming to an end, we wish to take this opportunity to thank the many farmers for their generous trade accorded us this season.

W.E. Miller Completes 35 Years Postal Service

W.E. "Windy" Miller completed 35 years of service with the post office department Friday, June 30, and has plans of going another 10 years.

Miller says of his post office career:

"I wasn't born in one, just raised there."

He first began working with the mail at Happy where his father was postmaster, 1914-1924.

"I was a clerk and also a mail messenger during 1922 and 1923," he said. "At that time I drew $48 a month for both jobs."

Then in the summer of 1924

he went to Amarillo where he was a substitute carrier.

Miller began working in the Canyon office October, 1926, as a substitute clerk. And in 1931 he became a regular clerk.

He took over his present route, Route One, July 1, 1941. "At that time it was only 31 miles in length and had 85 boxes," he pointed out. "Now it is 63 miles long and I serve over 200 families."

In addition to delivering mail on a rural route, Miller has other duties. He sells money orders, stamps, collects c.o.d. money and performs various other postal services.

"I guess the rural carrier is just a post office on wheels," he declared.

Miller's wife serves as his substitute and has for the past 10 years. She fills in for him during annual leave and sickness.

Miller says that weather has very little effect on his route. "About the only time I can't make the route is in case the roads are closed. If it's just muddy, I can work my way around on pavement and with a little walking serve all the boxes."

The Millers have three children. John is a chemist at the helium plant at Amarillo. David is a medical student at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. And Janis will be a sophomore in Canyon High School this fall.

Miller himself is a graduate of Canyon High. "I finished there in 1924," he said.

He further related that he attended West Texas State College afterwards.

"I have two years of college work," he said. While in college he served as reporter for the school paper.

He now spends his time gardening and collecting key chains.

"I also substitute for Santa Claus on occasions, but have gone into semi-retirement," he said.

At one time Miller played the role of Santa Claus in many surrounding towns and in Canyon. "About the only time I pinch hit now is at the church." He is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Bearing the dubious nickname of "Windy," Miller said it is only because his first name is Winfield. "You know," he said, "that's a common nickname for Winfield."

Miller was a member of the Canyon Lions Club 16 years and for 8 of them had a perfect attendance record. He is also active in the Randall County Junior Livestock Association.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match Ford's features (or popularity!)

There's a wagonload of reasons why more people prefer Ford wagons.

There's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field.

There's more convenience. You can have a power-operated roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (above) is the only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes.

Stop waiting for that wagon you've always wanted. Swap for a '61 Ford wagon now! Save for a '61 Ford, the wagon America loves most!
